FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Colleagues,

Spring classes will be starting on March 23 and this course catalog is FILLED with exciting opportunities. Not only are there classes during the day that range from one to eight sessions, but there are classes from 5:30 – 7:00 p.m., day trips, members-only lectures, and presentations by the ISU communication studies program students. We are even offering a half-day workshop so you can make your own kaleidoscope: Kaleidoscopes, Mirrors and Magic.

Some of your favorites are back: Learning iPads and iPhones; Cell Phone Camera Photography; the Art and Science of Fishing; What in the World?!?; Music Behind the Scenes; Current Issues in Public K-12 Education; and Great Decisions.

A few of the new classes include: American Sign Language; Genealogy Resources Too Good to Miss; Nothing WACky about It: History of the Women’s Army Corps; Ames: The Formative Years; Doing the Peace Corps in Your 60s. WOW, what a great list of classes, and there are more on the following pages.

Thank you to our wonderful instructors and the members of the OLLI committees who have made this spring session possible.

I hope you can find two or three classes, trips, lectures, etc. that will fit into your schedule. I’ll see you at the spring 2020 open house on Thursday, Feb. 20 at the ISU Alumni Center from 1:30 -2:30.

MEMBERSHIP

Become an OLLI Member

ENJOY OUR CLASSES AND OTHER GREAT BENEFITS!
OLE at ISU is a membership organization that offers courses in a variety of subjects selected to appeal to many interests and backgrounds. Anyone age 50 or older may take courses either for fun or to broaden his or her interests. The annual membership fee is $25 per person. The membership year begins on July 1 and ends on June 30. Individuals are welcome to join at any time during the year but must be a member to take a course. Tuition for courses is priced separately.

OLLI at ISU membership benefits for 2019-2020 include:
• A minimum of seven members-only lectures throughout the year at no additional cost
• An online monthly newsletter (a printed monthly newsletter for those without email)
• Online registration for courses and membership
• Annual OLLI at ISU giveaway
• Two complimentary concert tickets from the Central Iowa Symphony
• A special offer on tickets to a select performing arts show at Stephens Auditorium.
• Discounts at:
  – Executive Express: 10% discount with online reservation
  – Coe’s Floral & Gift: 10% off in-store, regular-priced home décor purchases (excludes fresh floral)
  – Octagon Center for the Arts: 10% off a purchase of more than $25 in the Octagon Gallery Shop or on a class registration
  – The Filling Station: 10% off all in-house made items (breakfast, lunch, bakery, coffee, tea, and cold case)

Give a Gift to OLLI at ISU

When you register for classes, please consider adding a little extra to go toward the annual giving fund for the needs of today and for the lifelong learners of the future. Your continued support and donations to the annual fund are important for us to continue to have funds available to use as needed for additional equipment for the instructors to use, to assist with renting classroom space, and to keeping the membership and class fees as low as possible.

Your donations have purchased the following items over the last couple of years: cart with all of the equipment an instructor would need when teaching in Horton, hearing devices to take on day trips, five new laptops, new speaker stands for the ballroom, a video camera, and a new ELMO for the ballroom. There are still items yet to purchase, with the main item being personal hearing devices that need to be updated with new headphones.

Donations can be made at any time through the following website: www.isualum.org/givetoollli

If you are interested in visiting about a major gift or about designating OLLI at ISU in your will, please contact Jamie Stowe at (515) 294-7441.

Give a Gift Certificate of Lifelong Learning

When family and friends ask you what you would like for your birthday, do you feel like you don’t need any more “stuff?” Request an OLLI gift certificate instead!

The information you learn and the conversations with your fellow OLLI at ISU members are priceless. By the same token, your spouse, siblings, or friends may also like a gift certificate.

Certificates can be purchased in the office or online at www.isualum.org/olligiftcertificate for any amount.
MISSION
OLLI at ISU provides intellectual, cultural, and social adventures through lifelong learning experiences for all persons age 50+ as they grow and thrive on their life’s journey

VISION
To be recognized as the premier, volunteer-based organization of lifelong learning experiences

VALUES
Adaptability, curiosity, integrity, knowledge, and passion

GOALS
• To continue to offer quality classes and experiences led by excellent leaders
• To expand the base from which OLLI participants are drawn
• To strive for financial security and sustainable growth
HOW TO REGISTER

Registration

The first opportunity to register for Spring 2020 classes will be at the Spring Open House on Thursday, Feb. 20 from 1:30 – 2:30 PM

Online registration will begin at 8:00 AM on Friday, Feb. 21

Any mailed or dropped-off registrations received before the open house will be held and processed after the open house in the order they were received.

WAYS TO REGISTER:

1. Attend the Open House: Thursday, Feb. 20 from 1:30 – 2:30 PM

2. Online: You may register online beginning at 8:00 AM on Feb. 21 at www.isualum.org/olliregistration. Separate online registration forms must be completed for each registrant in the same household.

3. By mail: Complete the form(s) found on page 49. Send a completed registration form from this catalog for each participant along with a check (payable to the ISU Alumni Association) or credit card payment to:

   OLLI at ISU
   ISU Alumni Center
   429 Alumni Lane
   Ames, IA 50011-1403

4. Stop by the OLLI office: Beginning Friday, Feb. 21 at 8:00 AM, an OLLI staff member or volunteer will be glad to assist you with registration.

Class assignments are made on a first-come, first-assigned basis according to the order in which you register at the open house, the postmark date of your mailed registration, or the date you register online on our website.

Any registrations mailed in before the open house will be held until after the open house. Classes may fill up at the open house, so dropping off or mailing a registration ahead of time does not guarantee you a spot. Your best chance to receive a seat in a class is by attending the open house, securing a class card from the instructor and registering at the open house.

If the class limit has been reached, your name will be placed on a waiting list. If a spot in the class becomes available, we will contact you and you can pay for the class at that time.

Confirmation of your registration will be emailed or mailed to you. If you do not receive a confirmation by March 13, please contact the OLLI at ISU office at 515-294-3192 or 515-294-5790.

Additional registration forms are available on our website.
When you take an OLLI ONLINE course, you will see and hear exactly what the participants at the ISU Alumni Center are experiencing—all on your computer screen. If you have questions, you will be able to ask them through a chat window.

A document with the basic information needed by the participants will be provided before the online course begins. While OLLI ONLINE will not replace the experience of being here in person, it is another opportunity to participate if you are unable to join us at the Alumni Center.

Reasons to register for an OLLI ONLINE course:
• You live too far away from Ames to attend each week
• Due to the health of a family member, you can’t commit to a schedule
• You are over 50 but have a job that doesn’t allow you to take classes during the day
• You have commitments that day, but really want to take the class

Reason to take an in-person course that has the online option:
• You want to take a course, but you know you won’t be able to attend some of the sessions because you will be out of town. With OLLI ONLINE, you can attend classes in the Alumni Center while in town, but watch recorded classes when you return home. We send a link to the recording of the class if you miss a session.

To take an OLLI ONLINE course you will need the following:
• High-speed connection to the Internet
• A computer that is not more than three years old
• Speakers or headphones

How to view the course:
• You can watch each session live and send questions through a chat window
• A recorded version can be watched later

Two weeks before the course begins, you will receive an email with a link that will test your ability to connect each week.
For more information, please call the OLLI office (515-294-3192).
CANCELLATIONS AND REFUNDS

OLLI membership dues are non-refundable.

If a registration is cancelled BEFORE March 13 at 4:30 PM, a $10 service fee must be retained with the $25 membership fee (if it was paid with the course registration).

There will be no refunds for cancellations made AFTER March 13 at 4:30 PM

Refunds will be processed after classes begin.

Cancellations Due to Weather

Cancellations due to weather will be determined by road conditions. If possible, when storms are in the forecast, you will receive an email or phone call the day before reminding you there is a possibility of classes being cancelled the next day.

Cancellations will be announced by:
• Email or by phone if you don’t have email
• Posted on our Facebook page
• Posted on our web page
• Announced on KASI (1430 AM) radio station
• Message on the phones of the director (515-294-3192) and program coordinator (515-294-5790)

If in doubt, please stay home and call the office (515-294-3192). A message may be left, but please do not ask that your call be returned as there may be no one in the office that day. We will do our best to reschedule any cancelled class sessions.

MONDAY

#1 – The History, Science, and Art of Kaleidoscopes
Monday 9:00 – 10:30 AM
One day, April 27
Cost: $16
Green Hills Community Room
Class limit 56

As young children, many of us had a kaleidoscope. In the early 1800s, kaleidoscopes were invented by Sir David Brewster. During “The Fancy Period” (1840-70s) they were used in architecture, wallpaper, and floor coverings. Kaleidoscopes then became inexpensive toys made from tin and cardboard. In the 1970s, kaleidoscopes were revived as finely crafted instruments. Join us for a journey to discover the history of the kaleidoscope and see samples of kaleidoscopes.

Steve and Peggy Kittelson have been creating handcrafted kaleidoscopes since 1986 with the goal to create unique and distinctive scopes that are beautiful to look at and pleasing to touch and hold. They are active educators who open their studio and give demonstrations on the magic and science of kaleidoscopes to students of all ages.

#2 – American Short Stories
Monday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM
Six weeks, March 23 – April 27
Cost: $56
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room - ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 32

In this class we will explore the genre of literature that is distinctly American: the short story. These condensed tales of love, betrayal, courage, and greed are mirrors of the human condition. We will discuss approximately a dozen stories and the writers who wrote them, from the 18th century to the present day. Copies of all stories will be provided to class members.

Keith Carlson has taught numerous courses for the OLLI program at Iowa State. He has spent a lifetime teaching English literature at Ames High School and is a resident of rural Boone.
#3 – Introduction to Teaism
Monday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

One day, May 4

Cost: $21, includes the cost of samples
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room - ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 25

Tea excites the imagination, sparks enlightenment, and seeds civilization: a single plant with endless diversity. Learn the myth, history, and diversity of camellia sinensis in this tasting-centered presentation by local tea shop owner Kristin M. Roach.

Kristin M. Roach grew up in Moline, Ill. and graduated in 2008 from Northern Illinois University with a bachelor’s degree in fine art. Since moving to Ames she’s worked as a professional artist, craft pattern writer, and curator. In 2016 Roach opened Little Woods Herbs & Teas, which continues to be her primary passion. She currently serves as president of Ames Main Street.

#4 – Current Issues in Public K-12 Education
Monday 1:00 – 2:30 PM

Four weeks, March 23 – April 13

Cost: $44
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room - ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 28

This course is designed to examine current issues and concerns in education that could affect teaching, student learning, curriculum, families, students, teachers, administration, school policy, and school law. We will look at the many complex issues and challenges that schools face each day. Topics to be covered will be determined by unfolding events and class desires.

Chuck Achter has been a public school educator for 50 years. He spent six years as a social studies teacher and coach; 32 years as a high school principal in Chaska, Minn., Ames, and Coon Rapids, Minn.; and 10 years as an ISU professor where he taught foundations of American education, educational methods, and school and community. He spent the last two years consulting on school culture.
#5 – Kaleidoscopes, Mirrors, and Magic
Monday 1:00 – 4:30 PM
One day, April 27
Cost: $190, includes the cost of supplies
Green Hills Community Room
Class limit 10

This is your opportunity to build a kaleidoscope using a furnished wooden barrel (hand turned by Steve Kittelson) and precut front surface mirror. Precise mirror cutting will be demonstrated and different mirror configurations will be discussed. The kaleidoscope will have a 2-mirror system, and the pieces used to create the image will be torch–worked glass pieces, twisted color wire, beads, and found objects. If possible, there will be a demonstration of turning a wooden barrel.

Peggy and Steve Kittelson have been making kaleidoscopes for 32 years, selling their work in galleries in the U.S., Japan, at art fairs, at their studio, and online. Their work is in several museums in Japan and many private collections. Their work has been in many museum exhibits, including the American Folk Art Museum in New York City. Their website is www.kittelsondesigns.com.

#6 – Iowa Birding Basics: Connect with Your Fine Feathered Friends
Monday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
Four weeks, April 20 – May 11
Cost: $44
Green Hills Theater
Class limit 38

Participants will examine the evolution of various bird species in Iowa from pre-European settlement until now. Attention will be given to the biological, ecological, and migratory traits and habits of backyard birds, grassland birds, and waterfowl, among others. Other topics covered will include types of feeders, preferred foods, and how to attract desired birds to your backyard. Classroom discussion will be followed by weekly field trips to the Tedesco Environmental Learning Corridor in the ISU Research Park. Binoculars recommended but not required.

Todd Burras has spent the past 20 years writing about nature and the outdoors, and now owns the Wild Birds Unlimited Nature Shop in Ames with his wife, Stephanie.

Melody Gerver is a fledgling naturalist finishing her degree in animal ecology at Iowa State University. She spends her free time writing, hiking, and watching birds.
#7 – The Micro-Memoir: Writing for the Moment

Monday 3:00 – 5:00 PM

_Six weeks, March 30 – May 4_

Cost: $60

Horton Multipurpose Conference Room - ISU Alumni Center

_Class limit 10_

This course will focus on “making the most of a moment.” Drawn from personal experiences—quirky memories, meeting a beloved, witnessing a tragedy—we will write memoir in short form. (Max: 750 words.) Through generative in-class writing, and group workshopping (critiquing) of pieces written at home, participants will explore techniques of writing that lend themselves to short-form memoir. Short-form memoirs, later combined, can create snapshots of a life story.

Ana McCracken’s personal essays are published in “The California Writers Club Literary Review” and the anthologies “Nothing But the Truth So Help Me God,” “The Joy of Adoption,” and “Chicken Soup for the Adopted Soul.” McCracken is busy writing a memoir about her adoption in Iowa State’s M.F.A. in creative writing and environment program. #11 – The Art and Science of Fishing
Tuesday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

Seven weeks, March 24 – May 5

Cost: $60

Horton Multipurpose Conference Room - ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 25

Learn the basics of fishing from beginning skills to master level. Learn about fishing equipment, what is needed, and how to operate each. Masters from Ames Anglers will share their expertise in fishing for specific types of fish, and where and how to locate them.

Lee Huey is a lifelong bass fisherman and the founder (2007) and coordinator of the Ames Anglers Fishing Club.

Les Wolfe is a native Iowan who grew up fishing the Mississippi River with his father before branching out to fishing in central and northeastern Iowa rivers, Iowa Corps of Engineer reservoirs, Iowa’s natural lakes, and in bodies of water in 10 other States, Ontario, Canada, and Puerto Vallarta, Mexico.

Jim Trow was introduced to fishing by his father and grandfather, while fishing for catfish. Trow has fished for walleye professionally for 11 years.

Mike Cox is the director of Story County Conservation and has a love for the outdoors and a deep concern for our water quality. Cox will discuss fishing opportunities in Story County.

Steve Lekwa worked for the Story County Conservation Board from 1973-2011 where he served as a ranger and naturalist, the board’s deputy director, and then director before he retired.

Stan Hanus began fishing in Tama County, Iowa, at age 8, caught a big bluegill and has been “hooked” ever since. He has fished in Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin, Florida, Alaska, and Canada. Hanus also possesses an excellent knowledge of how to tie fishing knots, which he will share with the class.
#12 – Excavation Meets Imagination: Unearthing Buried Voices Through Poetry

Tuesday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

One day, March 24

Cost: $16

Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 56

What has poetry to do with deep-rooted, time-honored studies of history and theology? Allison Boyd Justus’ study of biblical theology and translation practices led her to the practice of poetry, which in turn, after several years, brought her back to biblical studies through experimentation with a midrashic approach. This lecture will illuminate relationships among the ancient Hebrew practice of midrash, translation practices, and imaginative excavations of women’s stories, perspectives, and spiritual experiences.

Allison Boyd Justus is a student in Iowa State University’s M.F.A. program in creative writing and environment. Justus holds a master of arts degree in New Testament studies from Freed-Hardeman University, and she is the author of “Solstice to Solstice to Solstice: A Year of Sunrises in Poetry” (Alternating Current Press, 2017).

#13 – Buried Voices: Unearthing and Celebrating the Voices of Women Singers

Tuesday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

One day, March 31

Cost: $16

Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 56

In her lecture, “Buried Voices,” Debra Marquart will highlight the contributions of several women singers whose voices provided key elements in important rock classics in the 20th century; yet, those voices went largely unacknowledged and uncompensated. “Buried Voices” is an excerpt from Marquart’s in-progress book about her own career as a female road musician, “How Fish Learned to Sing.” Lecture will include storytelling and audio clips, plus Q & A with audience to discuss strategies for lifting up the voices of women.

Debra Marquart is a distinguished professor of liberal arts and sciences and Iowa’s Poet Laureate. A memoirist, poet, and performing musician, Marquart is the author of six books. The senior editor of “Flyway: Journal of Writing & Environment,” she teaches in Iowa State University’s interdisciplinary M.F.A. program in creative writing and environment.
#14 – 100 Years of Women’s Suffrage

#15 – The History of Antarctic Exploration
Tuesday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM
Three weeks, April 28 – May 12
Cost: $38
Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center

In the nineteenth century, explorers from many nations began coasting alone the fringes of the immense ice-cap we know as Antarctica. In the early 1900s, a new generation of adventurers set out to explore the interior of the continent all the way to the South Pole. This class will describe the characters, ambitions, successes, and misadventures of polar pioneers including Amundsen, Shackleton, and Byrd.

John Dobson graduated from MIT with a double major in physics and history and subsequently earned a Ph.D. in history at the University of Wisconsin. Dobson taught history at Iowa State University, Oklahoma State University, and in the British Isles. He has lectured for RENESAN in Santa Fe, N.M., a program similar to OLLI, as well as on MIT Alumni Association Tours around the world, including Antarctica.
#16 – Music Behind the Scenes
Tuesday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
Six weeks, March 24 – April 28
Cost: $56
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 28

This class will examine the inner working of classical music and will provide information and understanding. A new topic is presented each week focusing on a specific subject consisting of: composition, instruments, musicians, conducting, evaluation, and music from around the world.

Each class will include lecture, listening, and evaluation. CD’s of classical music will be used, along with DVD’s relating to the topic. Whatever your level of music experience, this class will attempt to expand your understanding of music.

Homer Gartz was director of the Ames High School Band and the Ames Municipal Band. His undergraduate and graduate studies in education and performance were done at the University of Northern Iowa, Drake University, and the University of Iowa. He has music experience as an educator, conductor, performer, and adjudicator.

#17 – After a Bill Becomes a Law: Where the Political Action Often Really Is
Tuesday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
Four weeks, March 24 – April 14
Cost: $44
Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 56

Often new policy ideas receive significant public attention through the point at which a law is enacted, but public attention beyond that point wanes. Often the most important decisions about a new law take place after the legislative process is complete. So, what happens after a bill becomes a law? This course will discuss the steps which happen after a law is enacted, sometimes to the surprise or consternation of those who worked or advocated for its passage.

Michael Coveyou retired from the Iowa Department of Public Safety in 2012 after 33 years of service as the department’s planning and research administrator. Coveyou also was an instructor of statistics and political science from 1973 to 1976 and a lecturer in political science at Iowa State University from 2013 to 2014 as well as lecturing on public administration at Drake University.
#19 – Ames: The Formative Years
Tuesday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
Four weeks, April 21 – May 12
Cost: $44
Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 56

#20 – Ames: The Formative Years
Tuesday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
Four weeks, April 21 – May 12
Cost: $44
OLLI ONLINE –

During the last third of the 19th century and about the first third of the 20th century, Ames evolved from a newly platted village, established by the railroad on swampy ground two miles east of the state’s as-yet-undeveloped agricultural college, into a thriving community that surrounded and partnered with that institution for the benefit of both. We will look at events and personalities during those years that contributed to that development.

Peter Hallock has a B.A. in public administration, a master’s degree in urban and regional planning, and is retired from the Iowa Department of Transportation. Hallock’s interest in local history largely grew from involvement with the Old Town Neighborhood Association. He now also serves on the City of Ames’ Historic Preservation Commission and the board of the Ames History Museum.

#21 – Seeds! The Diversity of Wonder
Tuesday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
Two weeks, April 7 – April 14
Cost: $32
ISU Seed Science Building
Class limit 40

This class will include award-winning video presentations and laboratory demonstrations of seeds from around the world. The seed design, how they travel, how they are stored and preserved, where they are found and the importance of seed in our lives are all featured in the presentations. Laboratory demonstrations will be part of each class. Class discussion will be encouraged. Participants will park at the ISU Alumni Center and then ride the free CyRide Orange Route to campus and back.

Manjit K. Misra is the director of the ISU Seed Center and a professor of Agriculture and Bioscience Engineering.

One day, April 28

Cost: $16

Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 56

You have many choices as you consider a Celebration of Life for either you or a family member, ranging from very traditional to very relaxed get-togethers for family and friends. Join us as Tim talks about the history and current trends and discusses important decision points. This class will guide you through options and give you tools to be able to express your own wishes or talk to another about theirs.

Tim Grandon is the owner and funeral director of Grandon Funeral in Ames and has been in the funeral industry for over 35 years.

#23 – Quakerism

Tuesday 5:30 – 7:00 PM

One day, April 14

Cost: $16

Friends Meetinghouse (Quaker)

Class limit 30

Rather than a creed, the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) worships under faith that God is reaching out to us and guiding our daily lives. Friends began as seekers active in England during the religious ferment of mid-1600s and were among the early English migrants to America. Come to the Ames Meetinghouse to hear and ask questions about how the Quaker faith and practice is carried forward in Ames today.

Deborah Fink is a writer, recovering anthropologist, and grandmother, who has been a member of Ames Friends Meeting for 45 years.
#24 – Plant-Based & Beyond: Protein for All
Tuesday 5:30 – 7:00 PM
One day, May 12
Cost: $26, includes the cost of samples
Wheatsfield Cooperative

Learn about the many different types of vegetarian and vegan proteins available to you. Wheatsfield Wellness Manager, Kim McDermott, will discuss the nature of protein, your body’s need for it, and which foods are the best sources. You will also learn to calculate the amount of protein you need as an individual. Some of the highlighted foods will include tempeh, nuts, quinoa, seitan, pea protein, and protein powders for making smoothies. You will sample some of Wheatsfield’s favorite plant-based meat alternatives. Perfect for life-long vegetarians and vegans as well as flexitarians and those wanting to know more about plant-based proteins.

Kim McDermott holds a B.S. degree in nutritional science, and has been interested in natural foods and vegetarian cooking for the past 25 years. McDermott enjoys experimenting in the kitchen to create down-to-earth, healthy recipes. She previously co-managed a small vegetarian restaurant, and also taught vegetarian cooking classes for the Magic Beanstalk.

WEDNESDAY

#25 – The Holocaust
Wednesday 9:00 – 10:30 AM
Six weeks, March 25 – April 29
Cost: $56
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 25

The Holocaust continues to receive a great deal of public attention and has ramifications that are relevant today. This class will cover: the influences on Nazi racial ideology, Hitler’s rise to power, and important events before and during what has been called “The War Against the Jews.” U.S. attitudes toward refugees and public awareness of the mass murder of Jews will also be discussed. Sessions will include documentary films and, possibly, a guest speaker.

Barbara Pleasants taught a course on the Holocaust at Iowa State University for over 25 years.
The Constitution of the United States only won ratification based on the promise of a Bill of Rights which included freedom of speech among other rights. Why then is free speech prosecuted so often? Are there times when free speech should be limited? This class will examine the issues involved with freedom of speech.

Jorgen Rasmussen has taught at the University of Arizona, Vanderbilt University, Glasgow University, and Columbia University. Rasmussen came to ISU to chair political science and teach British Politics and Constitutional Law. He has co-authored a “Comparative Politics” textbook that went through nine editions.

This class will examine the events preceding Frances Perkins rise to a level of influence for human causes via a first-person characterization. Participants will learn about the behind-the-scenes influence she had on Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal as his Secretary of Labor. Her efforts were based on her awareness of women’s working conditions through the Triangle Shirtwaist Factory Fire; the influence of social reformer, Jane Addams, as well as the important work of Florence Kelley, founder of New York’s National Consumers League; and Perkins’ work with New York’s Governor, Al Smith.

Phyllis Schrag is a retired educator, and an actor, singer, quilter, gardener, and reader. Schrag moved to Ames from South Dakota where she toured the state through the South Dakota Humanities Council doing lectures similar to this one. Schrag is active in community theatre here in Ames.
#28 – Learning iPads and iPhones: Section B
Wednesday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

Eight weeks, March 25 – May 13

Cost: $63

Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 25

The goal of this class is for you to better learn your iPad and iPhone and to enjoy safe, secure, and hassle-free usage. We cover all the hardware, iOS, and apps. There is emphasis on safe practices and syncing with your other Apple devices. Although not required, please bring your iPad/iPhone/iPod-Touch to class for a hands-on experience.

#29 – Geology in the News
Wednesday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

Four weeks, April 8 – April 29

Cost: $44

Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 56

Almost every day a geologic event such as an earthquake, volcanic eruption, or landslide occurs somewhere in the world. Often it results in property damage and loss of life. The geologic events that have occurred during the previous week and the reason for their occurrence will be discussed. The significance of recent geologic and paleontologic discoveries will also be reviewed. If time permits, past major geologic events will also be discussed and illustrated.

Carl Vondra is emeritus professor of geology and distinguished professor in liberal arts and sciences at Iowa State University, former director of the ISU Geology Field Station in Wyoming, and chair of the ISU Department of Geological and Atmospheric Sciences from 1991-1997. He has conducted research projects in Europe, Africa, and Asia.
Great Decisions is a foreign policy discussion group that studies one topic each week. The Foreign Policy Association prepares about 10 pages of reading material and a 25-minute video for each topic as a factual base for the discussion. Study guides can be purchased at www.fpa.org/great_decisions/?act=gd_materials for $32. (Encouraged, but not required.) If you prefer to download it, check with Amazon, Apple, Barnes & Noble or Google Play for availability and pricing.

Topics for 2020:
- Climate Change and the Global Order
- India and Pakistan
- Red Sea Security
- Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking
- U. S. Relations with the Northern Triangle
- China’s Road into Latin America
- The Philippines and the U.S.
- Artificial Intelligence and Data

Douglas Finnemore, distinguished professor emeritus, ISU Department of Physics and Astronomy, spent 40 years with the Ames Laboratory and the U.S. Department of Energy and has facilitated several Great Decisions courses.

#31 – Doing the Peace Corps in Your 60s
Wednesday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
One day, April 8
Cost: $16
Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 56

“What if I joined the Peace Corps?” It’s a question for one of those wild and crazy days when you contemplate your retirement and all its possibilities. Well, the couple teaching this class did join, and they are anxious to share their experiences. Maybe you will learn all the reasons why you should try it or, perhaps, all the reasons you are glad you didn’t. Either way you will be informed about the joys and challenges of the experience.

David and Mary Gregory recently returned from a two-year tour with the Peace Corps in St. Vincent & the Grenadines. Both have devoted years of service to education and library science. David is an associate professor emeritus at Iowa State University, spending 33 years at Parks Library. Mary has a degree in speech therapy and worked in the Nevada Schools, Nevada Public Library, and Heartland Services. The Gregories have enjoyed combining three things: volunteerism, world travel, and continuing education.

#32 – The Cold War’s Spy Wars, U.S. vs U.S.S.R. Going Back to the Beginning
Wednesday 1:00 – 2:30 PM
One day, April 29
Cost: $16
Reiman Ballroom – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 56

Join Larry Brown for a discussion on how it all started, and how the Russians made use of American Communists during WWII to steal American secrets, most of which we did not realize was going on until after the war ended. Learn how the revelations of American Communists who left the party and a Russian defector in Canada alerted us to the threat. Although the story of the atom bomb spies is pretty well known, that’s only the tip of a very large espionage iceberg—which basically started the Cold War.

Larry Brown is a former CIA operations officer and former faculty member at UNI and Iowa State. As a military intelligence officer in the Army Reserve, he trained counterintelligence agents and intelligence analysts. Brown retired as a colonel with over 30 years of service.
#34 – American Sign Language

#35 – The Best Movie Year Ever?
Wednesday 3:00 – 4:30 PM
Four weeks, April 22 – May 13
Cost: $44
Green Hills Theater
Class limit 38

Nearly everyone agrees that Hollywood produced more great motion pictures in 1939 than ever before or since. Movies like, “Gone With the Wind,” “The Wizard of Oz,” “Stagecoach,” and “The Hunchback of Notre Dame.” But there were other seminal years when filmmakers topped themselves. We’ll explore box office hits from some of the years between 1939 and now to see if movies are indeed “better than ever”, or if they’ll never live up to 1939.

Thomas Beell retired in May 2013 as emeritus professor after 38 years teaching courses at the Greenlee School of Journalism at ISU. Beell currently presents a weekly movie music show on KHOI.
#36 – Home Grown Businesses: Business Tours

Wednesday 3:00 – 5:00 PM

Four weeks, March 25 – April 15

Cost: $50

Various

Class limit 25

Participants in this class will visit the Ames Chamber & Economic Development offices for an overview of the industry and business vitality of the area. This will include the Prairie View Industrial Center, the eleven Story county communities, and other area business communities.

Fareway Distribution/Warehouse Center in Boone serves 122 stores in five states: Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska, and South Dakota. Family owned and with 11,000 employees, Fareway is a top ten employer in Iowa. A special feature of the tour will include the “banana ripening” process.

PowerFilm Solar of Ames produces a portable thin-film solar power product. Their “PowerFilm” has been used in military missions, golf carts, and Antarctic explorations. It was originally developed in partnership with Iowa State University and 3-M.

Sigler, a company which originated in an Ames home, has become a national leader in printing and packaging. We will have a tour which will include viewing the origination of a product design, the printing, and the packaging and shipping.

#37 – Iowa Craft Beer Tasting: Wheatsfield

Wednesday 5:30 – 7:00 PM

One day, May 6

Cost: $31, includes the cost of samples

Wheatsfield

Class limit 14

Wheatsfield Cooperative carries an extensive selection of Iowa products, including craft beers. The craft-brew industry in Iowa is expanding rapidly. This class will be an opportunity to learn about several styles of beer, while trying both old favorites and new treats from a variety of Iowa breweries. Appetizers from Wheatsfield Cooperative will be included.

Bronwyn Beatty-Hansen is a native of Emmetsburg, Iowa. She moved to Ames to study political science at ISU, and is now happy to call Ames home. Bronwyn is the Operations and Human Resources Manager, Front End Manager and Wine & Beer Buyer at Wheatsfield Cooperative.

#38 – Cell Phone Camera Photography Field Trips
Thursday 9:00 AM – 12:30 PM
Four weeks, March 26 – April 16
Cost: $50
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 15

Cell phone cameras cannot hope to compete with dSLR cameras with interchangeable lenses, zoom, and aperture control, yet cell phone cameras are being used to create outstanding images by the likes of National Geographic photographers. This course concentrates on how to deal with the limitations and take advantage of the strengths to help you be a better cell phone photographer. We will also explore visualization, perspective, composition, color balance, and light quality. We spend our first hour and a half reviewing each other’s images and course materials, followed by shooting photographs as a group at nearby city and county parks.

Sam Wormley is a well-known local photographer who regularly contributes photographic services to the Central Iowa Symphony, Ames Town & Gown Chamber Music Association, CoMotion Dance Theater, and photojournalism students at Iowa State.

#39 – The Prediction, Discovery, and Confirmation of Black Holes
Thursday 9:00 – 10:30 AM
Four weeks, April 23 – May 14
Cost: $44
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 25

The prediction, discovery, and confirmation of black holes will be covered as we explore the absurdity of the idea, the measurements of black hole properties, and understanding black holes' integral part in the evolution of our universe. We will consider the final development of Albert Einstein’s General Relativity in 1916, Karl Schwarzschild’s solution to the General Relativity equations in 1916 that predicted the possibility of black holes, as well as early astronomical observations of invisible massive objects in binary star systems.

Sam Wormley is a retired associate scientist and principal investigator, CNDE/IPRT/AL at Iowa State and taught as an adjunct professor of astronomy at Marshalltown Community College for 17 years. Wormley regularly teaches science and technology classes for OLLI at Iowa State.

Van Heel enjoys canning, home improvement projects, making homemade wine, and her new grandson, William.

#41 – Iowa’s Tallgrass Prairie: A Conversation

Thursday 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

Four weeks, April 23 – May 14

Cost: $44

Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 30

Eighty percent of Iowa’s total land area was once covered by tall-grass prairie. Today, less than 2 percent remains, found in roadsides, railroad right of ways, pioneer cemeteries, and state preserves. This course provides an overview of the history, soils, climate, plant, and animal communities found in these prairie remnants and restorations and will introduce some techniques used in prairie reconstructions. A field trip to visit local sites will occur during the last week of the spring session.

Mike Meetz retired from the Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory at the Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine after 35 years as a scientist. An amateur naturalist, he volunteers for the National Park Service, Iowa DNR, and Story County Conservation Board. He and his wife reconstructed a 38-acre prairie.
#42 – Genealogy Resources Too Good to Miss
Thursday 1:00 – 2:30 PM

Four weeks, March 26 – April 16

Cost: $44

Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 25

An in-depth look at various genealogy websites and tools that can help you advance in your family history research. The final session will discuss what to expect from Ancestry DNA and how to use it to expand your family information. While this is not a “how-to” genealogy class, we can give you resources for assistance.

Kathy Jones served in administrative roles at ISU for more than 40 years, including 16 years as university registrar and 10 years in the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. She has been researching her German Russian heritage for about 20 years and collaborates with many other researchers from the same villages and regions.

Mary Lohr has been researching her family ancestry for over 50 years and hasn’t finished yet! She has served as an officer in both local and state genealogy societies, taught classes, and published genealogy articles. She is retired from a 35 year career at ISU Parks Library.

Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 32

Today, women in the Army can attend West Point, be assigned to a combat arms branch, and become a general officer. It wasn’t always so. This course will look at the role of women in our nation’s military from the Revolutionary War on, the establishment of the Women’s Auxiliary Army Corps, the Women’s Army Corps, the initial integration of women, and the current role of women in the Army.

Mary Lou Nosco has a B.A. in history and an Ed.D. in Educational Leadership. Nosco is a retired Army officer who received a direct commission into the Women’s Army Corps in 1977. Her dissertation examined women who experienced the initial integration of females into the Army.

#44 – Using Alcohol Ink to Design Personalized Cards

Thursday 1:00 – 4:30 PM

One day, May 7

Cost: $76, includes the cost of supplies

Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center

Class limit 8

Learn alcohol ink techniques on yupo paper to make your own personalized cards. Alcohol inks are an alcohol-based, highly pigmented ink. There will be a display of more crafts for which you can use alcohol ink. All supplies will be furnished for your project, and you will be taking a set of four cards home with you.

Mary Moore graduated from Iowa State University with a BFA in design degree. She is an artist/designer and experienced in watercolors, acrylic painting, alcohol ink painting, photography, weaving and designing quilts.

Betty Toot is a tour planner for Adventure Travel and Tours and is a referral real estate agent. She has always enjoyed the arts and has experience in stained glass, weaving, alcohol ink painting, pottery, and designing quilts.
#45 – Zendoodle: Mandalas
Thursday 3:00 – 4:30 PM
Two weeks, April 16 – 23
Cost: $32
Horton Multipurpose Conference Room – ISU Alumni Center
Class limit 25

Mandalas are created with geometric shapes and curvilinear lines, and they often incorporate ancient spiritual symbols that are significant in Hinduism and Buddhism. Learn how to break down the elements of mandalas and use repetition of doodled shapes and lines to create a balanced sphere. Drawing mandalas can be introspective and is a great way to relieve stress and clear your mind. Learn basic techniques for using a completed mandala as a visual tool for self-guided meditation.

Sara Merritt is the education manager and program coordinator of the portal to the public at Iowa State University’s Reiman Gardens. Merritt is also an artist, professional belly dancer, and educator with 20-plus years’ experience teaching everything from painting and problem-solving to martial arts, belly dance, and science communication.

#46 – The Cuban Missile Crisis
Thursday 3:00 – 5:00 PM
Two weeks, April 16 – April 23
Cost: $32
Green Hills Community Room
Class limit 56

For 13 days in October of 1962, the world held its breath as the United States and the Soviet Union came close to risking a nuclear confrontation. The crisis was triggered by the placement of intermediate ballistic missiles on the island of Cuba, 90 miles off the coast of Florida, by Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev. Once discovered, President John F. Kennedy had no choice but to demand their removal—but the key question of how to do that would be pivotal in avoiding a further escalation and potential conflict with the Soviet Union. Join us for a close look at how this crisis was averted and what we can learn from it today.

47 – Des Moines Art Center and Greater Des Moines Botanical Garden
Coordinator: Patrick Brooks
Friday, March 27, 9:00 AM to approximately 5:00 PM
Cost: $90
The cost of this trip includes transportation, tip for the driver, all entry fees, and water on the bus.
Minimum: 25 participants are needed for this trip – maximum of 45 participants

The first stop on this tour is at the Greater Des Moines Botanical Garden for a self-guided tour. The next stop is the Des Moines Art Center to view the works on permanent display as well as other special exhibits such as works by Scottish artist Karla Black who works in mixed media. We will be escorted, in small groups of 8 to 10 people, by docents to assist in understanding and discussing the works. Lunch is on your own at Tangerine at the Art Center.

Tentative schedule for the day:
8:30 AM  Check-in at the ISU Alumni Center and complete emergency contact forms
9:00 AM  Leave for Des Moines
10:00 AM Greater Des Moines Botanical Garden
11:45 AM Des Moines Art Center
12:00 PM Lunch on your own at Tangerine at the Art Center
3:45 PM  Depart for Ames
5:00 PM  Estimated arrival back at the ISU Alumni Center

48 – Exploring the Past and Present in Jefferson, Iowa
Coordinator: Mary Lou Nosco
Friday, April 3, 7:15 AM to approximately 5:00 PM
Cost: $100
The cost of this trip includes transportation, tip for the driver, all entry fees, lunch, and water on the bus.
Minimum: 25 participants are needed for this trip – maximum of 45 participants

The tour begins with the Mahanay Bell Tower, the Greene County Courthouse, Sally’s Alley, and the Switchboard Museum at the Jefferson Telephone Company building. The tour continues with a journey back in time at RVP-1875 Historical Furniture Shop to visit a furniture maker who uses tools and patterns from the period. Moving forward to 1906, we will watch a professional, live, one-hour, three-person version of Fiddler on the Roof. The tour ends back in the present, at Deal’s Orchard. And yes, there will be pie!

Tentative schedule for the day:
7:15 AM  Check-in at the ISU Alumni Center and complete emergency contact forms
7:45 AM  Leave for Jefferson
8:45 AM  Jefferson Visitor Center and the Thomas Jefferson Gardens

4:00 PM  Depart for Ames
6:15 PM  Estimated arrival back at the ISU Alumni Center
Pre-registration is not required to attend these lectures. The only requirement to attend is to be a current, annual OLLI at ISU member. If you are not a current, annual member, you can attend by paying the $25 membership fee at the door.

Members-only lectures online – Don’t forget, with the permission of the presenters, the lectures will be available through the OLLI ONLINE option. You will be able to join the lecture live from home in front of your computer or receive a link to a recorded version of the lecture to watch later. A link to the “room” will be sent to current OLLI members the day before the lecture, and a link to a recording will be sent the next day to those OLLI members requesting it.

For more information about the OLLI ONLINE option, go to page 9.

Is the President Above the Law?
Tuesday, April 21, 3:00 – 4:30 PM
Reiman Ballroom, ISU Alumni Center

The Office of Legal Counsel (part of the Department of Justice) argues that a sitting President cannot be indicted for any illegal action and that the theory of the “unitary executive” prohibits Congress and the courts from limiting Presidential powers. The Trump Administration has used these claims to assert that the President is immune from any judicial action, including responding to subpoenas. Furthermore, should he be reelected, the statute of limitations would free him from prosecution once he leaves office. Are these claims valid?

Jorgen Rasmussen, distinguished professor emeritus, was a member of the ISU Political Science Department for a quarter of a century, including a term as chair. Constitutional Law was among the courses Rasmussen taught and was one of the examination fields for his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin/Madison.

Sound Stories: The World of Film Music
Tuesday, April 28, 3:00 – 4:30 PM
Reiman Ballroom, ISU Alumni Center

Music is an essential part of almost all modern movies, but most audience members are probably unaware of the elaborate process and artistic decisions behind the music. In this discussion we consider how film music is created, how it functions, and how it works together with the visual components to affect the viewer. By the time we are finished, participants may never watch a movie in quite the same way as they had before.

Eric McIntyre is professor of music at Grinnell College, where he directs the Grinnell Symphony Orchestra, teaches music composition courses, and teaches in Grinnell’s Liberal Arts in Prison Program. McIntyre has served as music director of the Central Iowa Symphony in Ames since 2009. An active composer, McIntyre has had his original compositions performed around the world by an array of performers and received support and awards from ASCAP, the Iowa Arts Council, the American Music Center, and the National Endowment for the Arts. Equally adept as a hornist, McIntyre was a member of the Houston Ballet and Houston Grand Opera Orchestras and performed with the Houston Symphony. He continues to perform as a guest musician with Des Moines Symphony and Orchestra Iowa and as a chamber musician and free improviser on modern and historic natural horns and with chimeric instruments of his own creation.

A Glimpse into Supreme Court Decision-Making
Tuesday, May 5, 3:00 – 4:30 PM
Reiman Ballroom, ISU Alumni Center

Since most lawyers and judges are still trying to figure out how to read the Constitution, we will not attempt to do that in a 90 minute session, although we know Ames is intellectually gifted. What we will do is share with you some constitutional principles and approaches that have been articulated by the Supreme Court and followed by others. Among them: stare decisis (precedent), state vs federal constitutions, living constitution vs originalism, judicial review, weighing/balancing competing constitutional rights, and reluctance to decide a case on constitutional grounds?

Jim Chrisinger has recently retired from a career in public service, serving in both Republican and Democratic administrations, including 10 years with the Iowa Department of Management. Chrisinger clerked for the Iowa Supreme Court and taught Constitutional Law at Iowa State. He has an undergraduate degree in history from ISU and a law degree from the University of California, Berkeley.
The U.S. House of Representatives decision to proceed with drafting articles of impeachment against President Donald Trump was of historic significance. But this impeachment is problematic. First, virtually all Democrats support impeachment and almost all Republicans oppose it. Thus, the impeachment reflects our polarized politics. Second, the President has a credible argument that he did not actually commit any federal crime, unlike the Nixon and Clinton impeachments. But most experts argue that a crime is not necessary for impeachment. The potential absence of a crime, however, complicates what criteria should apply to President Trump’s actions. This presentation will seek to clarify how the U.S. Constitution should be interpreted regarding these impeachment issues in the President Trump situation.

Mark Kende is the director of the Congressionally endowed Constitutional Law Center and James Madison chair professor in constitutional law at Drake University Law School. Kende graduated from Yale University, where he received his B.A. cum laude, and received honors in the philosophy major. Later, he received his J.D. from the University of Chicago Law School where he was on the law review. Prior to joining academia, he clerked for a federal district court judge, and he worked as a civil rights attorney in Chicago for five years. He has been a law professor for 25 years. During that time, he was selected to be a Fulbright Senior Scholar in South Africa, a visiting professor of law at the University of Paris II, and at Notre Dame Law School. He is a former chair of the Association of American Law Schools Section on Constitutional Law, and the author of Constitutional Rights in Two Worlds: South Africa and the United States (Cambridge Univ. Press).
You’re Invited: Come Communicate with Us!

ISU students majoring in communication studies will again offer a series of programs on a variety of communication topics during the spring session of OLLI. The programs are developed as part of the requirements for students who take the communication training and development class (ComSt 319) taught by Denise Vrchota and offered each spring through the communication studies program.

Prior to offering the programs for the OLLI members, the students study adult learning theories, learn to facilitate activities, and learn to organize and deliver programs to adult learners. The students choose the topics for the programs after receiving suggestions from OLLI members; however, because the students are communication majors, the topics must be related to the areas they study in their other classes. Some of you may remember completing a survey (on green paper) at the winter open house.

The programs are scheduled from 3:00 – 5:00 p.m. with the potential for two presentations (each presentation is one hour) each day:

- March 24
- March 31
- April 7
- April 14

At the time the catalog was printed, the exact topics were not available. The schedule of topics will be distributed in February, and descriptions will be available in the OLLI newsletter. We hope you will join us for one or all of the programs.

Just like the members-only lectures, these presentations will be live online, or you can request a link to a recording. This will also be a valuable opportunity for the students to be able to see a recording of their presentations.

All student presentations will be in the Reiman Ballroom at the ISU Alumni Center. There is no cost or registration required to attend.
